The Queen's Award for Voluntary Service

The Festival Drayton Centre was brought into community ownership in 1984 and has been proudly run by a dedicated team of volunteers ever since. The Centre underwent an extensive £1.1m refurbishment and extension project in 2004 and subsequent extensions in 2010 and 2013.

Today's Centre is widely regarded as Market Drayton's finest asset, not just for the entertainment and leisure facilities on offer but for the incredible standards of professionalism achieved by the Volunteer team in all aspects of the Centre's daily business operations. The Centre's achievements were recognised nationally on 2nd June 2014 when Her Majesty the Queen confirmed the Festival Drayton Centre as a recipient of The Queen's Award for Voluntary Service.

The citation for this award reads: "...creating quality of life enhancing opportunities for the whole community and beyond by providing multi-purpose facilities including Cinema, Theatre, spaces for Meetings, Leisure and Learning, Exhibition Gallery and Coffee Shop".
